Emergency-Related Community Links

SF 72 (http://sf72.org/home)
Learn information from the City of San Francisco about what to do in an emergency, simple steps to get connected, and useful guides to help get prepared.

Quake Quiz SF (http://quakequizsf.org/)
Test your knowledge about what to do during an earthquake.

AlertSF (https://alertsf.org/)
Sign up to receive email and text alerts during emergencies in San Francisco.

Free training from the San Francisco Fire Department in disaster preparedness and response.

Prepare for Your Home and Business (http://resilience.abag.ca.gov/)
The Association of Bay Area Governments (ABAG) has created this tool for dealing with earthquakes and hazards.

The US Geological Survey provides historic information about Bay Area earthquakes and preparedness tips.

Resources for special needs and vulnerable populations during a disaster.

Ready.gov (http://www.ready.gov)
Emergency planning resources for homes, businesses, and families from the US Department of Homeland Security.

SF Department of Public Health (http://www.sfcdcp.org/)
Communicable disease control and prevention.

Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (http://cdc.gov/)
This federal agency provides information on responding to disease outbreaks, bioterrorism, mass casualties, and other health-related emergencies.

FEMA is a federal agency charged with reducing the loss of life and property and protecting the nation from all hazards, including natural disasters, acts of terrorism, and other man-made disasters.

DHS is the primary federal agency charged with disaster management for the United States. Created in 2002 following the 9/11 attacks, DHS has absorbed multiple federal agencies that have a disaster management role.

American Red Cross – Bay Area Chapter (http://redcrossbayarea.org/)
The Bay Area Chapter of the American Red Cross holds classes in First Aid and CPR. They also train volunteers to help in disasters.